Joint-Heir Ministries delivery system for community and economic development is an innovative “Ecosystem” that conserves resources—reducing resource intensity. We gather existing business owners, organizational and ministry leaders to join-together and serve as Faculty, Coaches and Language Interpreters to share “subject matter expertise,” which enhances proprietary curriculum. Together, we are a cross-cultural eco-system for development harnessing key partnerships with like-minded innovators in the private, public and faith-sectors. We help change the development narrative to promote cross-cultural entrepreneurial environments, which encourages co-creation and stimulates organic collaboration using shared space and the best human resources of our world. Transnational leaders are equally valuable joining together with domestic entrepreneurs to co-create innovative products and services for the good of humanity.
